

Michelle Grieco is a resident of the firm's Northeast office in Connecticut where she maintains an active litigation practice focused on representing commercial policyholders in coverage disputes against their insurance carriers. Prior to starting her career as an insurance coverage attorney, Michelle worked on the SDV team as a Law Clerk and graduated from the firm's Summer Associate program.

Michelle's background in insurance began in 2019 when she worked for a major insurance carrier's product management department, where her focus was policy pricing analytics. While in law school, she also interned in that insurer's claims department. Michelle graduated with honors from Quinnipiac University School of Law with a concentration in Intellectual Property, where she also received the Superior Classroom Performance Award and recognition for her excellence in oral advocacy. She was also the Supervising Note Editor of Quinnipiac Health Law Journal.
